

Presseinformation

Transrapid International has confirmed in response to inquiries that, due to development of smoke, a Transrapid vehicle was taken out of commission on August 11, 2006 in Shanghai after arrival at Long Yang Road Station.

No further information is available at present, since the operator has not yet carried out a diagnosis to determine the cause of the smoke.

In order to answer any further inquiries:

- Passengers were able to leave the vehicle under normal circumstances
- No evacuation was necessary
- Transrapid vehicles meet the highest fire regulations of the railway standards
